Alternate Operations During Campus Closure

In the event of an emergency or announced campus closure due to a natural disaster or pandemic, it may be necessary for Panola College to move to altered operations. During this time, Panola College may opt to continue delivery of instruction through methods that include, but are not limited to: online learning management system (CANVAS), online conferencing, email messaging, and/or an alternate schedule. It is the responsibility of the student to monitor Panola College's website (www.panola.edu) for instructions about continuing courses remotely, CANVAS for each class for course-specific communication, and Panola College email for important general information.

Student Basic Needs

Unexpected circumstances may arise, but Panola College offers various resources to support students. If you need mental health services or are facing challenges with transportation, affording class materials and supplies, or accessing food regularly—issues that may impact your class performance—please visit panola.edu/resources.

Class Attendance

Regular and punctual attendance of classes and laboratories is required of all students. When a student has been ill or absent from class for approved extracurricular activities, he or she should be allowed, as far as possible, to make up for the missed work. If a student has not actively participated by the census date, they will be dropped by the instructor for non-attendance. This policy applies to courses that are in-person, online, hybrid, and hybrid.

Attendance in online courses is determined by submission of an assignment or participation in an activity. According to federal guidelines, simply logging into a distance learning course without participating in an academic assignment does not constitute attendance. Distance learning is defined as when a majority (more than 50%) of instruction occurs when the instructor and students are in separate physical locations. Students must engage in an academic activity prior to the course census date.

When an instructor feels that a student has been absent to such a degree as to invalidate the learning experience, the instructor may recommend to the Vice President of Instruction that the student be withdrawn from the course. Instructors may seek to withdraw students for non-attendance after they have accumulated the following number of absences:

Fall or spring semesters:

3 or more class meeting times per week - 5 absences

2 class meeting times per week - 3 absences

1 class meeting per week - 2 absences

The student is responsible for seeing that he or she has been officially withdrawn from a class. A student who stops attendance in a class without officially withdrawing from that class will be given a failing grade; consequently, the student must follow official withdrawal procedures in the Admissions/Records Office.

Please note: Health Science and Cosmetology courses may require more stringent attendance policies based on their accreditation agencies. Please see the addendum and/or program handbook for further information concerning attendance.

Pregnant/Parenting Policy

Panola College welcomes pregnant and parenting students as a part of the student body. This institution is committed to providing support and adaptations for a successful educational experience for pregnant and parenting students. Students experiencing a need for accommodations related to pregnancy or parenting will find a Pregnancy and Parenting Accommodations Request form in the Student Handbook or may request the form from the course instructor.

Instructional Goals and Purposes

The purpose of this course is to provide a music listening course designed for the non-music major. Students explore music through its basic elements, forms, styles, and major composers.

Learning Outcomes

1. To demonstrate awareness of the scope and variety of works in the arts and humanities after studying music and interrelated humanities of the various historical periods.
2. To understand those works as expressions of individual and human values within an historical and social context after studying the lives and times of the great composers, performing artists and their contemporaries.
3. To respond critically to works in the arts and humanities upon listening to recording of and videos about famous composers and their contemporaries.
4. To engage in the creative process of interpretive performance and comprehend the physical and intellectual demands required of the performing artist after learning about the personal sacrifices and triumphs of great composers and artists of past and present.
5. To articulate an informal personal reaction to works in the arts and humanities after listening to recordings and videos in class and at approved concerts of great musical works.
6. To develop an appreciation for the aesthetic principles that guide or govern the humanities and arts after studying the material in the course, listening to the compact discs and videos in class and after attending approved musical concerts.
7. To demonstrate knowledge of the influence of literature, philosophy, and/or arts on intercultural experiences after studying material about the other humanities and their influence on music and musicians around the world, presented with each unit and chapter throughout the course.

Course Content

Students in all sections of Music Appreciation MUSI 1306 will be required to do all of the following:
